Why Not Recall?

To the Editor:

This article is not intended to defeat the proposed Millbury Charter. I support it and feel that Millbury is in need of restructuring its government to better serve its citizens.

In its present form, the Charter will require that many elected officials be appointed. Some of these appointments will be made by the Board of Selectmen and others by the Town Manager with the majority of the Selectmen having the power of rejection of any of the Town Manager's proposed appointments. The Town Manager will also be appointed by the Board of Selectmen. As you can see, the focal or pivotal point of the power of appointments will be with the Board of Selectmen.

I believe that if the voters end up with fewer officials to vote for, then they must have a mechanism or check and balance in the Charter to afford them an adequate voice in their government at all times and not just at the annual town elections. Recall would guarantee that voice. I propose to make the Recall provision stringent so that it could not be used as a tool of special interests. It would require the participation of a large number of voters to trigger the provision.

I urge any citizen of the Town of Millbury who shares my view to contact the members of the Commission or attend our Monday evening meetings to voice your opinion.

It's your Charter, your government, your decision. Do not fail yourselves. Be heard now!!!

Sylvio E. Bourdeau
Member, Millbury Charter Commission

Millbury Selectmen's Meeting Digest

Take Your Pick!

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - Chairman Jude Cristo called the January 23 Selectmen's Meeting to order at 7:00 p.m.

Transfer Station

Selectman Gerry Bleau asked Administrative Assistant Earl Chase for a clarification of a voucher for Mulholland Construction, general contractor for the transfer station. He noted that there was a voucher for $50,000 for payment to Mulholland.

Chase explained, "Our counsel, SEA Engineering, and the bonding company have indicated that the payment would release and clear a lawsuit filed by DeGaetano Construction of Sutton and possibly head off another potential lawsuit. SEA has certified enough is left to do what is left to be done. There's $11,053.00 held back." Chase also said that there is $26,000 over and above that amount in credits.

Bleau asked if there was a list of the remaining work and whether the $11,503 would cover those items left to be completed. "Yes," Chase replied. "We are meeting with town counsel and the bonding company."

Later in the meeting, the board met with members of the Transfer Station Building Committee to discuss the status of the building. Chase reviewed a letter from SEA indicating the certification of payment of $50,000 to Mulholland Construction and moneys accrued in credits as well as $11,053 withheld to finish the punch list items.

Chase also noted that the original contract called for $940,000 with additional change orders bringing the total to $994,499. Currently, Mulholland has been paid $906,900. Chase said SEA would be meeting with the board next week to review their request for payment over and above the original contracted work.

Chase then said that the package building supplier informed him that weather proofing of the upper eaves of the building at the roof was not recommended even if the building was insulated.

Bleau asked if the building could be opened. Chase replied, "No. We have to make a payment to clear one court case."

"It's the responsibility of the contractor, not the town," Building Committee Chairman Dick Dwinell said. "We pay him. That's his responsibility with the bonding company (to pay subcontractors). Town Counsel says pay it. Whose advice do we take? If we wait until all subs are paid we will wait till next June."

Chase noted that the building still needs to be inspected by the Department of Environmental Protection.

Jim Dwinell, Chairman of the Board of Health, said that his board has been informed that the Plumbing and Building inspectors will not issue occupancy permits because of a lack of hot and cold running water.

"I thought this was settled," Cristo said.

"Why do we need one (occupancy permit),," Donnelly asked. "We are not going to live in it."

Building Committee member Peter Boria noted that an occupancy permit is needed for any business.

George D'Auteuil, another member of the Building Committee, said that work on the reserve trailer area and the sub-floor for the office was done in 1 1/2 hours by machine. He questioned the billing on that item since the cost of doing that work was based on the work being done by hand. He also noted that the area had to be cleaned up by the town.

D'Auteuil also asked the board to look into fining the contractor for failure to complete all work as scheduled, as stipulated in the contract. Chase said that had not been reviewed with counsel.

The board was scheduled to meet with all concerned parties at their January 30 meeting.

Payment for HMO's

Chase reported that insurance changes under Chapter 32B, Section 653 of Massachusetts General Laws have been forwarded to the board from Representative Paul Kollios. The law under discussion deals with the 10% payment for workers covered under HMO's.

Chase said that the changes of concern to the town are in Sections 37, 218 and 242. According to Chase, the changes take effect July 1, 1990. He said labor counsel is aware of the changes but will offer no opinion on the labor contract until he has a chance to review the changes. Labor Counsel did ask for a written request from the board for an opinion. The board approved sending a written request on a 4-0 vote.

Gas Tanks

Chase reported that Highway Surveyor Joe Chase told him that tests done on the town's gas tanks were not conclusive because of the configuration of a pipe on the tanks that did not allow for sufficient pressure for a certified reading. "Joe recommends a $2,000 transfer from the reserve account to test them now," Earl Chase said, "and remove that pipe to see if the tanks pass or not. If not, then an article would be placed on the Town Meeting warrant for replacement."

The board approved the request to go to the finance committee for a $2,000 transfer.

Police Budget

Police Chief Ron Stokowski informed the board that an in-service training program will take place shortly in Sutton. He said the Criminal Justice Training Commission could not accommodate the Blackstone Valley Chiefs, so the chiefs got together for a training program with Sutton.

Stokowski again referred to the police department budget, noting that his budget shows a 9% cut. "In order to get down to 10.5%," he said, "I would have to wipe out a position."

Gauthier then asked, "Who are the executive officers of the community? It appears the Finance Committee is running the town. They are an advisory group. Every department sends a budget, a fair and honest one. The Finance Committee recommends at the town meeting as to what the budgets should be. If the Town Meeting concurs, fine."

Gauthier said the Finance Committee is dictating. "I object to that," he said. "It's not fair. I don't know where this started. We should work together. I don't see where they have the authority."

"They try to get departments to submit what they ultimately will submit," Cristo said.

Gauthier argued that you can't compare street lights with police officers. "If there is an emergency, street lights won't respond." His remarks were made in reference to cutting a patrolman as opposed to cutting a street light. "The finance committee's thinking is out of whack," Gauthier said.

Bleau suggested that the Police Department budget be sent to the Finance Committee. "Why make it an issue; just let it go," he said.

Cristo said the Finance Committee would just send it back. "Let them," Bleau replied.

Stokowski asked the board which budget he should submit, one showing his 6% salary increase or one with his salary level-funded.

Cristo said the board right now takes the position that there will be no salary increases. Stokowski had plugged in 6% for his salary increase. Last week the board voted to level fund administrative salaries.

Stokowski noted that the Planning Board had submitted a budget with a 10.5% cut, with a 6% salary increase for the Town Planner. Cristo said that if other department heads receive raises he will "squawk." He also said he would get up on the town floor to amend budgets.

The consensus of the board was that Stokowski submit a budget of $873,362.17 minus the 6% salary raise.

BVRDC

At 7:40, Helen Bartucca and Todd Miles, representing the Blackstone Valley Re-Development Corporation, were present to seek the town's continued support of a financial assessment for $2800.00, up from $2,000 last year. Bartucca said last year's contribution from the towns was a basis for receiving $75,000 from the state last year.

A video presentation highlighting the assets of the Blackstone Valley area was presented with a copy to be given to the town for its own use in speaking to business leaders. She noted that the Corporation will put together a market plan and aggressively target industries and businesses to bring into the Blackstone Valley.

The board agreed to support an article for consideration by the town meeting.

Appointments

Under Old Business, the board unanimously approved the appointment of seven individuals to the Recreation Committee. The seven will be interviewed at the next meeting.

Transformer

The board met with Michael Shaughnessy, of Shaughnessy and Ahern of South Boston, whose firm has been hired by Spofford-Thorndyke Engineering Services to ship a transformer overland from a railroad siding on River Street through Millbury to an electrical power plant being constructed in Burriville, Rhode Island.

Shaughnessy said the Millbury route was the best of many other alternatives considered. He explained that the route will be from the railroad siding on River Street, down Elm Street, over South Main Street to Sutton and eventually to Rte. 146. The company will erect a steel span over the South Main Street Bridge to prevent any damage to the bridge.

Shaughnessy said a definite date had not been confirmed but February 11, a Sunday, was given as a possibility.

This would be the first of three moves which would begin at 6:30 a.m. and take 45 minutes to one hour to pass through the center of town. The vehicle being used to transport the 20 foot high transformer would travel at a speed of 3-5 miles per hour. It is expected the operation would be completed by 9:00 a.m.

Shaughnessy said the type of trailer to be used is one of two in the country and is "state of the art." The trailer has over 128 tires and 12 axles that steer independently.

Bleau asked if this would occur three times. Shaughnessy said at least three over the next few months and possibly four. He also said that over the next year it could occur eight times.

State and local police will be involved in assisting the movers as streets and traffic would be effected along the route.

Cristo asked who would pay for that service. Shaughnessy said his company would have to pay as the job is being done on a fixed cost basis. He also said a Sunday would be a more appropriate time. Cristo noted that neighborhoods along the route should be made aware of the date and time.

The board approved the move along the route specified on a 4-0 vote.

Center School

According to Chase, some rooms at the Center School received damage during a dance held recently. He noted that some areas of the school were unlocked as recommended by the insurance advisor. According to Chase, those doors will now be locked.

Per Pupil Costs

Under Addenda, the board briefly reviewed material and information pertaining to per pupil costs for education in cities and towns of the Commonwealth.

Board members noted that Millbury's per pupil cost of $4,011 was higher than those of surrounding communities. Those communities mentioned were: Grafton, $2,901; Boylston, $3551; Northbridge, $3258; Shrewsbury, $3920; Oxford, $3,747; and Holden, $3,608.

Donnelly referred to information pertaining to enrollment and staff data for 1980-1990. He cited the reduction in enrollment, and said that based upon last year's enrollment and the number of staff, the teacher pupil ratio was approximately 11.9 students per teacher in the Millbury School System.

Cristo remarked that the school department and the school committee can "just about do what they want with moving monies around. We ask that they not hire. They hire and do what they want. The rest of the town leads a second class existence," he said.

Street Lights

The board heard a report from Chase and Gauthier indicating that they had reviewed street light locations and types of illumination at various locations along South Main street to Woodland Street. They recommended changes such as dropping some lights and changing certain incandescent lights to mercury vapors at a net decrease of $156.68. The board approved the changes on a 4-0 vote.

Correspondence

The following warrant articles were submitted by the Town Clerk.

- $600 to purchase two dehumidifiers for the vaults in the Town Hall.
- $2,000 for the codification and printing of the town bylaws.
- $8,000 to purchase a computer for the Town Clerk's Office.
- $8,300 to purchase a new photocopy machine for the use of the Town Hall.
- A letter from Wheelabrator Millbury Inc. reported that the Host Community fee for December was $50,351.10 (this figure included a $1,000 underpayment in August and a $5000 overpayment in November.
- The board received a letter of resignation from Linda Johnson, Director of the Millbury Youth Center. Johnson said she was resigning due to a change in schedule at her primary job. The resignation will take effect March 16.

Another Point of View

LEADERSHIP OR FOLLOWERSHIP

By Lawrence Moore

We are in the midst of a financial crisis of epic proportion! Local aid funds have been cut and are threatened with further cuts. State agencies that service the public are curtailing their activities. All budget items that impinge on the taxpayers have been affected. Sadly, no serious attempt has been made to cut out of the payroll the agencies, bureaus and people that waste the taxpayers money.

In spite of the failure of the leadership to muster sufficient votes for the tax package, the leadership continues to stonewall the efforts of the Republicans and responsible Democrats to rip into the system and eliminate the waste. The movement to sanity began last year with Dick Moore's special order to set up a committee on Efficiency and Economy. That was stymied by the one negative vote necessary to kill.

Then the group of Democrats forced a Caucus in which the leadership held sway and prevented the adoption of a "cut-first, then-tax" resolution. Another attempt to force a new deficit cutting package was filed on January 25 by the same group of five: Moore, Sullivan, Hynes, Ruane and Giordano. As Dick Moore says, "We cannot wait passively as the crisis worsens to the point where our only option is a tax bill."

Having been unable to pass a tax bill on several occasions, is it not time for Mr. Keverian and the Governor to stop and figure out why? There is rebellion in the House...some of it overt...and some silent. Many of our Representatives have forgotten (or never knew) that they represent the PEOPLE. The poor, spineless creatures can't get the courage to come out against Keverian and taxes and have the guts to line up with Dick Moore and the others to lead the fight.

In withdrawing his tax plan last week, Keverian said, "Is it a question of leadership, or quite frankly, as I view things, is it a question of followership." Bestowing the title of Speaker (leader) does not assure that the recipient knows the meaning of leadership, has the ability to lead, or has the moral fibre to lead.

To bludgeon, to denigrate, to steamroll, to punish, or to bully is not being a leader. And Mr. Keverian is guilty of all of these. Why then won't our Representatives stand up to "the leadership" and follow the leadership of the Group of 5.

I say "leadership" of the Group of 5 because they are truly leaders. They sense the mood of the people and are willing to put their fate on the line by following what the people want. It was Sam Rayburn who said, "You cannot be a leader, and ask other people to follow you, unless you know how to follow too." Gandhi said, "I must follow the people for I am their leader."

Does not Mr. Keverian know the will of the people now? If a tax increase was to be voted on now by all the people, doesn't he know the result?

The last straw was the presentation of the Governor's budget for next year. With appropriate "mea culpa" he unveiled a ridiculous document, cutting items that hurt vital services and making absolutely no effort to make Government more efficient and more effective. He too has no sense of what it means to be a leader. As I've said before, if he was a telephone, only his transmitter would function.

One of my readers suggested I lead an "impeach Dukakis" campaign. It might do some good, even if it was ineffective. It might scare the members of the General Court into listening to the voters.

For now, the most important thing you can do is to bombard your Representative and Senator by mail and phone, letting them know you support the plan Dick Moore and his group presented on January 25.

If that group does what it plans to do, and then reports that there is no more fat to cut, I for one will support whatever tax plan they present.

Board Asked to Review Policy Change in Staffing of Police Patrols

By Lawrence Moore

SUTTON - The January 23 meeting of Selectmen in Sutton was convened at 8:00 p.m. by Chairman Rick LaBonte. In attendance were board members Michael Chizy, Mary K. Connor, Wallace Johnson and Carl Licopoli. Town Administrator Dexter Blois was also present.

State Aid

Blois reported on the status of State Aid distribution as of December 1st. As opposed to the fiscal half year allocation of 50% of the original funds, Sutton received 42%. In view of the state's problems, Blois felt no assurance that the 42% will actually be received as of December 31st and the amount to be received for the first half of next year is still in doubt.

Vacancy on ZBA

Three residents have submitted applications to be considered for an alternate's position on the Zoning Board of Appeals: Paula Salem, Don Allison, and Mike Wilczynski. Salem and Allison were present; Wilczynski was unable to attend the meeting.

Salem, a resident of Sutton for approximately one and a half years, explained that she has been in real estate sales for four years and is presently employed on a "not very active" basis with King & King. She said that she felt it would be good to get involved with the Board of Appeals because she has an interest in the town and town government.

Allison, a two year resident of Sutton, is a professional mechanical engineer for a consulting firm. He said that, as a resident of Skyline Drive, he has been involved with many of the town's boards and feels that his experience as a "fact finder" would add to the expertise on the ZBA. Allison said he is active in the Recreation Commission's work in soccer and in PeeWee League ball.

Connor discussed the importance of the ZBA appointment in view of the period of growth into which the town is entering, and the important part that the ZBA has to play in the special permit process. She asked the applicants whether a particular issue caused them to apply, and whether they were aware of the time demands that would be made upon them.

"My time is your time," Salem responded. She also said that she and her husband have a tremendous interest in environmental concerns, having been past presidents of the Lake Association in Worcester.

Allison said he had no particular "issue" reason to be involved. He also said he is familiar with many of the town's by-laws and regulations. Allison referred to himself as a "controlled growth" advocate, seeing the benefit to the town of wise growth.

Allison said he would be able to arrange his time as needed.

The board took the appointment under advisement.

Solid Waste Committee

Alex Trenta of the Solid Waste Committee reported on progress being made in the planning of a transfer station to replace the landfill on Stone School Road. He said that after a site is determined, a site engineering evaluation will be performed by a consulting engineer, and the cost of site preparation will be determined. The cost of engineering and of the actual station will then be determined.

According to Trenta, in view of the changes in the administration of the landfill during the past year, the Solid Waste Committee plans to review the landfill to arrange a closing date based on actual usage rather than on the "drop dead date" presently in effect.

Chizy questioned whether recycling would be a factor in the current and future plans for the landfill. Trenta maintained that there was a glut on the market for recycled materials.

Board members agreed that it would be a good thing to start a recycling program now to educate the public to the need for the separation of various types of trash.

Trenta replied that extensive studies have been done on recycling operations in Sturbridge, Douglas and Spencer and said he would check to see what could be done to start a trash separation plan now.

Town resident Jim Goode questioned whether an old plan to expand at the rear of the landfill was a possibility to alleviate some of the economic pressure of a transfer station.

Johnson replied that the cost of preparing the available space versus the new transfer station made that concept invalid. In addition, it was indicated that the unused space available to the landfill was to be used to dispose of the compacted material. Licopoli questioned how that would be done.

Trenta replied that a special "cell" would be built which would hold the compacted material safely.

LaBonte questioned the cost of the operation and was informed by Trenta that the capping of the present landfill will cost approximately $35,000-$40,000 an acre and that the site preparation and construction of the plant itself would cost approximately $400,000.

Chizy asked how long the plant and landfill could be expected to be functional. Town Engineer Dick Wharton replied that the estimated life of the plant was 25 years depending upon how well the town recycles. That estimate would also be dependent upon whether problems arise with the compactor or with storage.

Police Business

Police Chief Alfred Shaw was present to update the board on the police department budget. Shaw told the board that when he took over as Chief, one of his priorities was to analyze the budget and the status of the department. His study indicated that if the department continued to operate as it has through December, the budget would be exhausted by May. Because of his findings, Shaw undertook several changes, the most important of which was to change the policy on shift coverage and the employment of civilian dispatchers to free up patrolmen for street duty.

From My Window on Farnsworth Court

By "Pastor Rae" Cameron

We had ourselves a good old-fashioned snow storm on Sunday, January 21, so we had to cancel the Ecumenical Service scheduled for that evening. It has been rescheduled for Sunday, February 4 at 6:00 p.m. at the Millbury Baptist Church. There was a good turn out for the choir rehearsal, and, as usual, under the able leadership of Mr. Charles King it sounded great. Don't miss it. The ladies have put the refreshments on hold and they will be made available at the close of the service for a time of fellowship.

Many churches and organizations very wisely cancelled their services that day, but Millbury Baptist Church was business as usual. Someone has said that people go where they want to go and that is generally true, although I'm sure that there were those who would have liked to have attended but definitely were unable to do so. It made for a wonderful worship service, however, as those there had come at some risk and really wanted to be there.

It is the time of year for many churches to have their annual meetings. One of the highlights of the Annual Meeting of the Millbury Baptist Church was the unanimous vote by secret ballot to change the hour of the Worship Service from 11:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. This change was necessary if we wanted to retain the services of Mr. Charles King as organist and choir director as we now share him, part time with us and full time with Notre Dame des Canadiens in Worcester. It also revealed that we are willing to change if necessary.

Changes are not easy for some people, but we have to realize that an ongoing world does change. We all liked some of the good old days stuff, but some of the present day things are very exciting.

God did create the world in six days and then rested on the seventh, but on the eighth day it was back to business as usual. Those of us who worship on Sunday are really doing so on that eighth day when we believe Jesus Christ rose from the dead to give us new life.

Houston Announces District Office Hours

MILLBURY - Thursday, February 15, 1:00-2:00 p.m., Millbury Public Library.

SUTTON - Thursday, February 15, 2:00-3:00 p.m., Sutton Town Hall.

Senator Houston's staff will be available at these times and places on the third Thursday of every month. No appointments are necessary although you may schedule one, if it is more convenient, by calling Linda Roach at 792-6202.

Thank You...

To the citizens of Millbury:

Our recent candy sale was extremely successful. Much credit is due to all the children who participated in preschool through grade 8. They all worked very hard selling both candy bars and an assortment of boxed candy. We thank you all!

Congratulations to the top sellers in each grade: preschool, Jonathan Lund; Kindergarten (am) Heath Burroughs; Kindergarten (pm) Sean LaBoeuf; 1st Grade, Christopher Gauthier; Grade 3, Michael King; Grade 2, and also top sales at Elmwood, was a tie between Kimberly Marentette and Michele Usinski. Grade 4, Shawn Moorly; Grade 5, Jeffrey Kozolowski; Grade 6, Joseph LaValle; and Grade 7, Konrad Antczak. Top seller at Shaw Middle and the top seller in the town was Keith Falcone.

We thank all the people who bought any candy. With the budget crunch upon us, the profits from the candy sale will help to keep some of the "little things" for the kids in the schools. Thank You!

Everything you need to close down a crackhouse.

You aren't helpless when crime invades your neighborhood. You're fully capable of helping police and they're ready to show you how.

The Case of The Stanton Park Stand-off.

When crack moved into a row house on a quiet block of Stanton Park in Washington, D.C., folks decided to serve an eviction notice.

They met with police to find out what they could do to keep drugs out of their neighborhood.

The cops told them to keep an eye out—to let police know whenever something suspicious happened. They began to notice faces. They wrote down license numbers of strange cars. They noted the times of odd behavior.

They worked with each other. They worked with the police. Armed with field glasses, note pads and telephones, folks kept track of the neighborhood.

Within one month, enough evidence had been gathered. Police moved in. Crack moved out.

Citizen participation beat crime in D.C. It can do the same for you. For more success stories, write The McGruff Files, 1 Prevention Way, Washington, D.C. 20539-0001.

Police become even more responsive when their people are their partners. Together we can help...

Report Calls Mercury Emissions a 'National Threat'

BOSTON - Clean Water Action, a national grassroots environmental organization, released a report on January 22 entitled, "Mercury Rising: From Incineration to the Food Chain–The Growing Threat."

According to Robert Collins, the report's author and National Solid Waste Program Director for Clean Water Action, "New information on how mercury emissions from trash incinerators are contaminating our food supply shows a growing national threat to public health and that Massachusetts is at special risk." Collins also said that the federal government and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts are ignoring the threat.

Clean Water Action has called for a halt to new incinerator construction in Massachusetts and asks for programs to reduce the mercury emission of the state's nine operating incinerators. It also asks that tests for mercury contamination be conducted around the state.

The report examines how mercury in common household products such as batteries, paints, and plastics, is vaporized by trash incinerators and then absorbed by marine life to accumulate in the food supply.

The report cites data from Florida and Minnesota that allegedly links mercury contamination of the fish there to trash incinerator emissions. In Florida, five major incinerators around the Everglades have been linked to unhealthful levels of mercury in the fish there, according to the report. Recently, a panther, which eats the fish, died of unknown causes and, when autopsied, was found to have mercury levels much higher than the known toxic level for humans.

"The panthers are our 'miner's canary,'" said Lee Ketelsen, Clean Water Action's Massachusetts Solid Waste Director. "Miners took canaries into the mines to detect lethal gases. The panthers eat the fish we eat and they now have lethal mercury levels. This means we should act to protect our health. The mercury danger alone is enough reason not to permit more incinerators and to reevaluate the pollution control programs at existing ones," he said.

The report maintains that the commonly used pollution control equipment on Massachusetts trash incinerators is ineffective at controlling mercury emissions.

"Massachusetts already has a mercury contamination problem. Women and children are warned not to eat the fish at the Quabbin Reservoir," Collins said. "Acid rain conditions in the state increase the risk from mercury. Existing incinerators emit tons of mercury every year. Massachusetts should take action immediately to reduce this threat."

Collins also presented the report to the EPA in a public hearing on new proposed federal regulations for trash incinerators. He severely criticized the regulations:

"These regulations totally ignore the mercury threat," Collins said. "They give no standard at all for mercury and approve pollution control technology that is ineffective at controlling mercury," he told the EPA.

Collins also criticized the federal recycling goal of 25%. "We need a national halt to incinerator construction," he said, "not regulations that are a license to burn. We need a national policy of reduce and recycle first."

The public hearing, held at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Cambridge, was one of three hearings held throughout the country on the new EPA trash incinerator regulations.

Legislators Propose Budget Cutting Package

Boston - Representatives Richard T. Moore (D-Uxbridge), Gregory Sullivan (D-Norwood), Frank Hynes (D-Marshfield), Larry Giordano (D-Methuen), and Mike Ruane (D-Salem), have begun fashioning a new budget cutting package to block plans to increase state taxes.

The five Democrats began work on their budget reduction plan when Speaker George Keverian said he did not have enough votes in the House to support his tax package. "I don't understand the Leadership's continued call to increase taxes as the only way to resolve the budget crisis," Moore said. "The people of Massachusetts have made it quite clear that they will not support a tax hike until all efforts have been made to down-size state government. If Speaker Keverian refuses to put together a budget cutting package...then we will do it for him."

Initial drafts of the new budget cutting bill are based on items vetoed by Dukakis in the recently passed budget reduction bill. The governor's vetoes came at the end of the 1989 session, and so could not be overridden by the legislature. Some of the items saved by the Governor's veto include press secretaries in the Executive Department and funding for the New Braintree Prison plan. Moore and his colleagues will attempt to garner enough legislative support to once again cut these, and other items, from the state budget. Other sections of the bill will include items already adopted by the House and/or Senate, but left out of the last budget reduction bill by a Leadership-appointed Joint Conference Committee.

Law to Take Effect April 3

BOSTON - Representative Paul Kollios (D-Millbury) recently announced that his Bill H-1400 "An Act relative to the jurisdiction of the housing court division of the trial court" was signed into law on January 3. It will take effect on April 3, 1990.

The law changes the enforcement point for resolving non-criminal by-laws adopted by local communities. This change will shift the jurisdiction from the District Court to the Housing Court.

"I filed this legislation two years ago," Kollios said, "after local officials brought to my attention the extremely slow process for resolving violations of local by-laws in District Court."

Local Families Needed for Exchange Students

American Scandinavian Student Exchange Programs (ASSE) is seeking local families to host Scandinavian, French, Spanish, German, Dutch, British, Swiss, Japanese and Australian girls and boys, 15 to 18 years of age, coming to this area for the upcoming high school year.

The students are fluent in English and are sponsored by ASSE, a non-profit, public benefit organization, affiliated with the Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education and cooperating with the Canadian Provincial Ministries of Education.

The students arrive from their home country shortly before school begins in late August and return at the end of the school year in June. Each ASSE student is fully insured, brings his or her own personal spending money and expects to bear his or her share of household responsibilities, as well as being included in normal family activities and lifestyles.

The students are screened and qualified by ASSE. Families may select the youngster of their choice from extensive student applications, family photos and biographical essays. Students and families are encouraged to begin corresponding prior to the students arrival.

ASSE is also seeking local high school students to become ASSE exchange students abroad. Students should be between 15 and 18 years old and interested in living with a European, Canadian or Australian family, attending school and learning about the lands and people of Scandinavia, France, Spain, Germany, Holland, Britain, Switzerland, Canada and Australia. Students should have a good academic record and desire to experience another culture and language through living with a warm and giving volunteer family. Academic year and shorter term summer vacation programs are available.

Anyone interested in obtaining more information about becoming a host family or a student aborad should contact ASSE's local representative, Gladys Soderberg, at 832-9342 of call 1-800-333-3802.

Democrats, Independents, and Republicans form Coalition to Support Tuttle for State Representative

OXFORD - Democrats, Independents and Republicans gathered at the Singletary Rod & Gun Club on February 25 for an organizational meeting of the Committee to Elect Alan M. Tuttle State Representative.

Former State Rep. Richard J. Dwinell, Democrat of Millbury, said he would urge voters to support Tuttle and to elect him to the position that he (Dwinell) held for 16 years. "Tuttle's philosophy is in line with the voters of the district," Dwinell said, "and in electing him we can regain our voice in government."

Dwinell said Tuttle could give the district strong representation as an independent representative, and reminded everyone that an independent has all the rights, privileges and power of any other member of the House.

Millbury School Committee member and registered Republican Alan Marble called on "disenchanted Democrats, interested Independents and Hopeful Republicans" to band together to support Tuttle.

"Everyone is seeing their pay stub reduced because of unwise government spending," said Tony Mangano, a registered Independent and a member of senior management at Polaroid. "We manage our lives and our businesses more efficiently to stay equal, while state government just asks for more."

Bill Tuttle, a college student and newly-registered voter, cited his father's involvement in the community and said his leadership is now needed in the 7th Worcester District.

Tuttle, a Town Assessor and former member of the School Committee, said he is confident that voters of the district and the state are going to vote for drastic changes in the House of Representatives in the Fall election. "That will bring about a new confidence in our state government that will lead to an improved economy," Tuttle said.

Tuttle said that the voters have already set the agenda for the campaign. "They are looking for someone who is in favor of reducing waste in government and reducing the bureaucracy that has been built in the last several years without reducing much needed services," he said.

Items listed by Tuttle as issues in the campaign are: legislative pay raise, welfare for illegal aliens, the rentention of Proposition 2 1/2, capital punishment, and gun control. Tuttle said there will be several other issues on which he and the incumbent, Representative Paul Kollios, disagree "such as cronyism and the furlough program for first degree murderers."

Connor asked Shaw specifically what changes had been made. The Chief replied that one change was to discontinue the use of full time patrolmen on overtime, after reserve officers, part time officers and dispatchers had proved to be unavailable.

At this point, Shaw requested that the board go into executive Session to discuss personnel matters. LaBonte replied that since there were so many people present, it might not be advisable to do that.

Returning to his presentation, Shaw said, "I am not asking for dollars at this point, but rather I am trying to live within my budget."

LaBonte then questioned what he referred to as "the concerns of the officers." LaBonte was referring to a letter in the board's packet of information from the Sutton Police Sergeant's and Patrolman's Association. The letter, signed by all full time members of the Department, referred to Shaw's recent staffing policy changes.

"We, as a police unit," the letter stated, "view this policy as a serious threat, impacting public safety."

The letter also stated that the policy has had a detrimental affect on morale in the department.

The officers asked the selectmen to review the policy change in staffing of police patrols. "We are confident that you will support our position on this issue and confer with the Chief of Police in an effort to rectify this unsafe policy," the letter concluded.

LaBonte then asked what it would take to solve the problem. The chief's ready reply was $16,700. Shaw agreed that some of the officer's points were valid but said, "I have to live within the budget." He also noted that the shortfall in the budget existed before he assumed the position of Chief.

Blois said that the budget problems in the police department were chronic, and reminded the board that for several years additional dollars had been voted at May town meetings.

"Why can't we live within our budget," Johnson asked. "Why start looking for money now. We are not short of money now." Johnson argued that the time to be concerned about budgets was at the beginning of the year when budgets were made, and not in the middle of the year when it was not the policy of the town to allocate extra money.

Shaw said his concern for town services was shared by the officers and the letter that the selectmen had received from the staff was a request for help to maintain services.

When asked to respond to the reason for the budget problems, Shaw replied, "Sick days had increased substantially and vacation days, which needed to be used up before the end of the calendar year, were taken. Against the budget estimate of 51 sick days through November 1st, 71 were taken, and an additional 31 were taken in November and December. The bulk of the shortfall is an excess of $7,000 in vacation and sick time, $3,500 for the payment of two chiefs during the overlap period, $4,300 in overtime and court time."

LaBonte asked Blois why this information came up so suddenly. Blois replied that the information grew out of budget preparations and that the Officer's Association decided to go directly to the board and not work through the Town Administrator.

Johnson commented that he appreciated the chief's action but also appreciated the desire of the officers to cover shifts properly. "But," Johnson said, "it's not policy to distribute money now." He then said that the chief, the patrolmen and the board want the town covered properly. "When the money runs out, we'll supplement your budget. Assure the men they have the chief's and the board's support," he said.

Connor noted that there was a difference in the chief's position and that of his men, as stated in their letter. She said it was her understanding that the present policy is to keep the $16,000 deficit from getting greater because the problem is over-spending to this date. The shortfall would be greater if the new policy is not followed.

Blois reminded the board that at last year's May Town Meeting, approximately $9,000 was transferred to the police budget.

Shaw concluded by saying that coverage was based on needed changes in the policy because of the budget. He also said that the short notice to the board was a result of the officer's desire to bring the matter to their attention.

David Perry, President of the police officer's association, said he was unaware of the chain of command. He said he had discussed the matter with Blois but was unable to come to an agreement. As a result, members of the association opted to come before the selectmen. Perry asked that the association's letter be made part of the minutes. The board agreed to the request.

Perry also said the officers were looking for a retraction of the chief's policy on manning.

Shaw replied that the budget was the cause for the change in policy and noted that if no reserve was available, the shift supervisor has the authority to do whatever is necessary in light of any problems that may arise.

The board advised all present that they will take the matter under advisement.

Open Forum

Town resident Robert Sanger commented that he had seen the report of the Highway Safety Commission and suggested that once again the subject of a stop sign at the intersection of Uxbridge Road and Boston Road be considered.

Town Engineer Dick Wharton said that the project is on the Safety Committee's list. He also explained that a traffic count will be done in the spring, after which application will again be made to the state for the installation of a stop sign.

Emergency Medical Coordinator

Paul Maynard, Captain of the Sutton Rescue Squad, reported that the Central Massachusetts Emergency Medical System has requested that an Emergency Medical Coordinator be appointed for the town of Sutton. Perry Briggs, a Lieutenant on the Rescue Squad and a registered EMT with 10 years experience, volunteered for the position. Fire Chief John Peterson supported Briggs' appointment.

The board approved Briggs as Emergency Medical Coordinator for the Town.

Camp Marion

Blois informed the board that the town's insurance agency has not received information from the insurance carrier and so he could not report on the status of the applied-for insurance for Camp Marion.

Johnson suggested that the Board walk the property with the police and fire chiefs. He was concerned that certain aspects of the camp, because they are an "attractive nuisance," present a liability temptation.

Sponsorship of Warrant Articles

Connor raised the question of the sponsorship and presentation of Warrant Articles according to the terms of the Charter. According to the Charter, warrant articles may be sponsored by the Selectmen, any elected official, or a multiple member body, or by petition of townspeople, requiring 10 signatures for a regular meeting or 100 signatures for a Special meeting. According to the Charter, the Selectmen must approve the articles.

Licopoli said, "We are the boss. Articles must, therefore, pass through the Selectmen."

"If the selectmen think something should not be on the warrant," Connor said, "it should be refused."

After a lengthy discussion, several things were decided:

1. Articles offered by people other than those entitled to sponsor articles by the charter, would be sponsored by the selectmen. The person or group wishing to see the article on the warrant would be listed as the "presenter."

2. Warrant articles should be filed early enough so that the warrant can be studied in sufficient detail so that proper inquiry, discussion, and consideration is possible.

Foreclosure

Blois advised the selectmen of an ad regarding the foreclosure of three parcels of land adjacent to the Town garage. He noted that this was part of the land on a recently projected plan for a shopping center.

Because of the state of finances, LaBonte said "We can't afford to buy anything else right now." He suggested that Blois continue to follow the progress of the foreclosure.

Executive Session

Chief Shaw returned to the room and the question of going into Executive Session was brought up.

"Everyone who brought a grievance should have a chance to speak," Johnson said.

While everyone agreed, it was felt that the board should first hear all the details from the Chief. The motion to move to executive session was approved 4-1 with Johnson opposed.

'Things That Go Bump In The Night'

MILLBURY - Millbury High art students are displaying their sculpture pieces at the Millbury Post Office. The sculptures were constructed by a multi-media process of plaster, paper mache and clay. The theme of the project was based on a fantasy image of "Things That Go Bump in the Night," and encompassed a review of early gothic gargoyles.
